

Marg McGregor

Marg McGregor is the Director of National Sport Federation Leadership with the Canadian Olympic Committee. Over the course of her career Marg has served as the CEO of Canadian Interuniversity Sport, and has worked in leadership positions with the Canadian Association for Women and Sport, Water Ski Canada, Synchro Swim Canada and the Athletics Department at Dalhousie University.

Marg was the chef de mission for Team Canada at the 2006 Paralympic Games at Torino and the 2002 Commonwealth Games. She volunteered with the Canadian Olympic Committee at the Vancouver 2010 and London 2012 Olympics. Over the years Marg has served on team management staff for a number of international competitions and major games. Marg has also coached athletes at the Canada Games and CIS Championships.

Marg has served on a number of Boards and Advisory Committees including the Commonwealth Games Canada, Canadian Paralympic Committee, the Canadian Sport and Fitness Administration Centre, the True Sport Foundation, the advisory committee for Algonquin College's diploma program in sport management, and the Edmonton 2015 Universiade Bid Committee.

Marg has a Masters of Management degree from McGill University where she focused her studies on crisis management.

Marg is a recipient of Canada's Top 40 Under 40 Award and she served on the Board of Directors of Canada's Top 40 Under 40 for over 10 years.

Marg is the proud mom of two terrific daughters. In her spare time she enjoys painting, writing rap poetry and sailing. Marg grew up in Peterborough Ontario and returns there as often as possible to enjoy time with her extended family in cottage country.