

Thursday, November 7, 2013

New SDRCC Online Resource Available for Volunteer Internal Appeal Panel Members

Montréal (Québec) - The Sport Dispute Resolution Centre of Canada (SDRCC) is pleased to announce the launch of its new online initiative: the Internal Appeal Panel Orientation program.

In response to members of the sport community expressing the important need for this type of resource, this program was developed to provide a simple orientation to volunteers serving on internal appeal panels, whether they are involved at the local or the national level of their sport. Available online at no cost and completely bilingual, it features five short thematic units offering interactive navigation, scenarios inspired from real cases, as well as a toolbox of resources and references on related topics. It is currently available at the following link: <http://prevention.crdsc-sdrcc.ca/>

Please visit the SDRCC website at www.crdsc-sdrcc.ca to learn more about this new program or about its several other educational resources offered free of charge.

About SDRCC

The SDRCC is a not-for-profit corporation created by federal legislation and funded by Sport Canada. The mission of the SDRCC is to provide the sport community with a national alternative dispute resolution service and strengthen the culture of fairness in Canadian sport by resolving disputes quickly and efficiently and to provide expertise and assistance regarding alternative dispute resolution.

For more information, please contact:

Marie-Claude Asselin
Executive Director and CEO
Tel: 1-866-733-7767
Mobile: (514) 465-7339
mcasselin@crdsc-sdrcc.ca